Culture, Politics And Economics: The Aesthetics Of Mass-Production

A workshop led by the New Fordist Organization for LUC students, looking at how mass-production can be applied to art. The workshop will look at the political, economic and aesthetic results of this process.

Using new mass-production techniques designed by the New Fordist Organization, you will be invited to create works of painting, dance, sculpture and music in a matter of hours - no previous experience needed!

The workshop is in two sections:

Day 1 (04 June): The theoretical aspects of artistic mass-production.

Day 2 (07 June): A practical workshop in which you will produce new works of art in minimal amounts of time. You are going to display your works in the opening performance.
